What is an ice hotel? It is a hotel made of snow and ice. The walls, the furniture and the artworks are all made of ice. Builders in some cold places wait until winter to build ice hotels. They select a place near a frozen river, so they can cut ice blocks (冰块) for walls. They mix snow and ice to hold everything together and keep the blocks from coming apart. Builders finish building the outside walls first. Then they work on the inside. They carve (雕刻) furniture and works of art from blocks of ice. All this work takes time. A large ice hotel usually takes several weeks to build.

People are told to bring warm clothes because the temperature inside the hotel stays below 0°C. At night, people sleep in thick sleeping bags provided by the hotel. During the day, they sit on ice chairs. They even drink from ice glasses.

An ice hotel only stands while it is cold. Once spring comes, the hotel melts. The water returns to the river. Then builders must wait until next winter to build another ice hotel.

36. "Ice hotel" is so called most probably because _____.

- A. it is built in a cold place
- B. it is made of ice and snow
- C. it is near a frozen river

37. In building an ice hotel, snow is used _____.

- A. to produce ice furniture
- B. to keep temperature low in the hotel
- C. to make ice blocks
- D. to mix with ice to hold things together

38. What do we know about building a large ice hotel?

- A. It starts in spring.
- B. It needs a lot of artists.
- C. It begins with the inside.
- D. It takes several weeks.

39. What should people bring to stay in an ice hotel?

- A. Sleeping bags.
- B. Ice chairs.
- C. Warm clothes.
- D. Ice glasses.

40. According to the passage, what could be the longest time for an ice hotel to stand?

- A. One night.
- B. Several days.
- C. A winter.
- D. A year.
